The mobile electric tripod is the perfect solution for users who want maximum freedom when using an interactive monitor.

Thanks to its design, it works even with monitors up to 86" in size.

The stand has an anti-collision function that immediately stops the motor when it encounters an obstacle. Safe and simple adjustment requires no effort, so meeting or class leaders don't have to worry about problematic height adjustments – they can do it efficiently and precisely using the remote control or even from the interactive monitor itself.
